Mr. Montgomery, from Joint Committee on Printing, submitted the following report:

MR. PRESIDENT—

Your committee appointed by the Council to act with a like committee on the part of the House, to consider the subject of printing for the two Houses, have performed the duty assigned them, and have agreed to report to their respective Houses as follows :

That the Secretary of the Territory, acting under the instructions of the Secretary of the Treasury of the U. S. has for several years claimed and exercised the prerogative of appointing the Territorial printer, and disbursing the moneys appropriated by the General Government for printing.

That $4,000 is the sum appropriated by the General Government for printing the laws and journals of the present session, and that the amount to be paid for the Territorial printing of one year, is limited by a law of Congress to that sum.

That the Secretary of the Territory has appointed Messrs. Bagley & Harned, Territorial printers, and contracted with them to do the printing of the Assembly to the amount of said appropriation of $4,000, at the Government rates.

That the Joint Committee, after a full examination of the subject, were of the opinion that at the rates contracted by the Secretary with Messrs: Bagley & Harned, the sum appropriated by the General Government will not be sufficient to pay for the printing of the laws and journals, and the incidental printing of the session.

And having ascertained that there will be no difficulty in procuring the printing to be done at about one-half the maximum Government rates, concluded to join in a recommendation to their respective Houses that they adopt and pursue a system of economy in printing for the use of the members only such bills and matter as may be of a general nature.

And second, without raising a question as to the right of the Secretary of the Territory to disburse the money appropriated by the General Government for printing, that the Assembly contract with some responsible party to do the incidental printing at a fixed rate, to be paid out of the Territorial funds should the Secretary of the Territory not provide for the payment of the same.

C. H. MONTGOMERY,

Chairman.

On motion of Mr. McLane, (Mr. Stine in the chair.)

The report was received and laid on the table.

H. B. 9—An act to amend an act entitled an act to prevent hogs from trespassing in certain counties.

Bill read first and second times.

With an amendment.

Mr. Stine, from Select Committee on University, reported as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT—

The Joint Committee appointed to visit the Territorial University, having performed that duty as well as the time at their disposal would permit, submit the following report:

Upon our arrival we were unable to find any of the acting regents of the University, but the Hon. J. J. McGilvra kindly offered to accompany us to the University buildings, and, in company with that gentleman, we proceeded to make an inspection of the premises.

The building for school purposes, if furnished, would be ample to accommodate 250 or 300 scholars. At present the school in charge of Prof. Hill, contains about fifty students of both sexes, and it is well conducted having been reorganized on an improved plan by Professor Hill which, if carried out, will be the means of working much good. The school building and also the President's house and boarding house should all be repainted the coming season, and the Committee would recommend that an appropriation be made for that purpose.

Astronomical and philosophical apparatus is much needed. And the grounds are sadly neglected, but we can hardly recommend any appropriation for any purposes except to save the buildings from decay, until the defective title to the lands is remedied.

Your committee have been unable to get any report of the land, or financial condition of the University, on which to base a report.

In conclusion, we would say that the neglected condition of the premises, and the apparent feeling of indifference on the part of many of the citizens of Seattle, lead us to recommend a change in the present system of government for this institution.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

FRED STINE,
Chairman Council Committee.

J. A. KUHN,
Chairman House Committee.

Report adopted.

Mr. Stine introduced,

C. B. 31—An act to provide for completing the records of the present session of the Legislative Assembly.

TERRITORY OF WASHINGTON,
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
Olympia, W. T., November 13, 1873. }

TO THE HONORABLE PRESIDENT,

Legislative Council, W. T.

I return without approval, Council Bill No. 19, entitled an act to encourage the construction of railroads.

The exemption from taxation of private property, owned by corporations or by individuals, is open to very serious objections. The withdrawal of one class of property from taxation must necessarily impose upon the owners of other classes, a larger rate of taxation. If one-tenth of the taxable property in the Territory can be exempted from taxation, on the same principle, nine-tenths can be, and thus the entire burden of taxation may be made to rest upon one-tenth of the taxable property.

I am aware that exemptions of property have been made by law, and those exemptions in some cases have been sustained by the Courts; but I am clearly of opinion that those laws violate the fundamental principles of taxation. If, however, the power to exempt property is conceded, there is another insuperable objection to this bill. By its express provisions it exempts certain railroads from taxation, and leaves others fully liable to taxation. A law similar to this has, I believe, never been sustained. If exemptions are made, they must embrace all the property of that class in the Territory, otherwise taxes would not be equal and uniform, as is provided in the Organic Act. Under this bill, the property of one or more railroad companies, while their roads are being constructed, is exempt from taxation. While the property of other roads under construction is taxed according to its value. Want of time prevents me from giving more in detail my objections to the bill.

ELISHA P. FERRY,

Governor.

The question being, Shall the bill pass notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?

The ayes and noes being called:

Those who voted in the affirmative were:

Messrs. Cranney, Foster, Montgomery, Shaw, Smith, Stine, Wood and Mr. President—8.

Those who voted in the negative were:

Mr. Wallace—1.

TERRITORY OF WASHINGTON, }
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }

To the Honorable

Council of the Territory of Washington :

I return without approval

C. B. 30—An act to dissolve the bonds of matrimony between A. J. Moses and Sarah J. Moses.

The power of a Territorial Legislature to grant divorces is doubtful. The Congress of the United States in 1826 disapproved all of the acts of the Territory of Florida, granting divorces. No reason is given for the disapproval, but it must necessarily have been based upon want of power, or Congress must have deemed it bad policy for a Legislature to grant them. The Supreme Court of Missouri decided that a Territorial Legislature had not the power to grant a divorce. This power, however, being a doubtful one, and having been exercised in many States, I would not feel at liberty to withhold my assent from this bill on this ground alone, if no other objection existed.

Legislative divorces have never been regarded favorably even by those who approved their legality.

The Legislature is not the proper forum before which the question of the severance of the marriage relation should be brought. No notice need be given by the party applying; no evidence need be adduced, or if evidence is produced, it is only ex parte. and need not be under oath; it is admitted that the Legislature cannot decide the question of alimony or provide for the custody of minor children; these questions being under the exclusive jurisdiction of the Courts.

These and other considerations which time will not permit me to refer to, lead me to the conclusion that divorces should only be granted by the courts.

If it is claimed that meritorious cases are brought before the Legislative Assembly, which are not provided for by the divorce laws of the Territory, I reply that the divorce law could be amended to cover all such cases, and the parties could then apply to the Courts for relief.

If causes for divorce exist outside of those provided in the Statute, which warrant the Legislative Assembly in granting a divorce in a particular case, these cases should be embraced in the general divorce law, so that all persons desiring to do so could avail themselves of its provisions.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

FELLOW CITIZENS OF THE COUNCIL

AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES :

It affords me unfeigned pleasure to meet for the first time, the Representatives of the people, who have convened for the purpose of adopting such measures as will best advance the material interests of the Territory and promote the welfare and prosperity of the whole people. You have assembled at an important period in our history. At no time in the past have such grave and responsible duties devolved upon the Legislative branch of the government, as will devolve upon you. We are about to emerge from a state of comparative isolation, into more enlarged commercial and business relations with other portions of our common country. The construction of railroads, the organization of corporations for commercial, manufacturing, mining and other purposes, and the increase of capital and population naturally resulting therefrom, may render necessary many important amendments to our present laws, or the enactment of others adapted to the new and changed condition of affairs. Many causes are rapidly combining to give us in the immediate future a large increase of wealth and population. Among these may be mentioned the construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad and the prevalence elsewhere of more correct conceptions in relation to our climate, resources and agricultural productions than those which were formerly entertained. The growth of the Territory has been very much retarded in the past, by the existence of erroneous opinions of our climate. Looking only at the parallels of latitude which pass through the Territory, those who were not personally cognizant of the facts, and were not aware of the natural causes which produce, on the Northern coast of the Pacific Ocean, a mild and equable temperature throughout the year, assumed, that our climate and agricultural productions were similar to those in the same latitude on the Atlantic. They inferred, that our climate was extremely cold and rigorous for many consecutive months, and that our agricultural capacity was limited mainly to those productions found outside of the temperate zone. These views are, however, gradually being changed by the dissemination of facts, through the public press and otherwise, and by the exhibition in the larger cities, of the Western and Atlantic States, of specimens of our remarkable agricultural productions. Public attention throughout the whole country is now strongly directed to this Territory, and we may reasonably expect in the future a larger share of prosperity than we have experienced in the past.

NORTHWESTERN BOUNDARY.

Since the close of the last session of the Legislative Assembly an important international question which had for many years been pending between the United States and Great Britain has been finally settled by an amicable arbitration. I refer to the boundary line between this Territory and British Columbia. The first article of the treaty concluded at Washington on the 13th of June, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six, between the United States and Great Britain, stipulated, that the line of boundary between the territories of the United States and those of Great Britain should be continued westward along the forty-ninth parallel of North latitude, "to the middle of the channel which separates the continent from Vancouver's Island, and thence Southerly through the middle of said channel and of Fuca Straits to the Pacific Ocean." There being two channels, the Government of Great Britain claimed that Rosario Straits, or the Eastern channel, was the one referred to, and the United States claimed that the Canal de Haro, or Western channel, was the true boundary line fixed by the terms of the treaty. Commissioners were appointed by the respective Governments to settle the boundary line, who were unable to agree. San Juan, one of the islands lying between the two channels was, in 1859, occupied by the military forces of the United States, which act threatened, for a time, to disturb the friendly relations existing between the two governments. Subsequently an arrangement was entered into for a joint military occupancy of the territory in dispute, until a final settlement of the line of boundary should be arrived at.

By the XXXIV article of the treaty concluded at Washington, May 8th, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, it was agreed that the respective claims of the Government of the United States and of the Government of Great Britain should be submitted to the arbitration and award of the Emperor of Germany. After a full examination and consideration of the question, on the 21st of October, 1872, he decided that the boundary line contemplated in the treaty of 1846, was the Canal de Haro, thus sustaining in full the claims of the United States. Immediately after receiving notice of this decision, I caused civil authority to be re-established over the islands lying between the two channels, and I am pleased to be able to inform you that these islands now form, indisputably, a part of the county of Whatcom, in the Territory of Washington. I suggest the propriety of forming these islands into a new county.

FINANCE.

The financial condition of the Territory during the past two years has been steadily improving, and with the present rate of taxation, prompt payment of taxes and economy, the Territory may be free from indebtedness, its credit fully restored, and a balance left in the treasury at the close of the coming fiscal year. Many counties are delinquent for taxes due the Territory for the years 1871 and 1872, and several for previous years. According to the books of the Territorial Auditor, the aggregate amount due from these counties is $12,738. 81. This with $56,033. 76 remaining unpaid of the taxes of 1873 is apparently sufficient to liquidate the entire indebtedness of the Territory and leave a balance in the Treasury of $41,860. 05. It is quite probable, however, that many counties are entitled to credits which they have not claimed nor received. These, when allowed, will reduce this balance to some extent. By the delinquency of these non-paying counties, those counties not in default are compelled to pay interest on the amount due from delinquent counties. This of itself is wrong and unjust. Should however these counties remain in default, an additional burden of taxation will be imposed upon those counties not in arrears, to meet the indebtedness already existing, and thus the prompt paying counties will be punished instead of rewarded for their strict and punctual compliance with the revenue laws.

I especially call your attention to this subject, and suggest the enactment of such laws as may be necessary to compel the counties in default to liquidate their indebtedness without delay; and to prevent, in the future, a recurrence of these defaults. The reports of the Auditor and Treasurer, which will be laid before you, will give in detail the financial situation of the Territory on the 30th ultimo. From them, and from preceding reports I have obtained the following summary:

Assessed value of property, 1871.....	$11,582,890 00
“ “ “ “ 1873.....	14,125,160 00
Increase.....	2,542,160 00
Indebtedness of the Territory, including interest, Nov. 1, 1871.....	38,586 72
Indebtedness Sept. 30, 1873, including interest.....	29,717 77
Cash in Treasury.....	3,805 25
Decrease of indebtedness, including cash in the Treasury.....	12,674 10

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

The 6th section of the act of Congress “to establish the Territorial government of Washington,” provides that “all taxes shall be equal and uniform; and no distinction shall be made in the assessments between different kinds of property, but assessments shall be according to the value thereof." To give full effect to this provision it must be evident that assessments of property in each county must be fully up to the value thereof, or in each county, the assessed value must bear the same proportion to the true value. Assessments according to the actual value are plainly and clearly contemplated, but experience has shown, in this Territory and elsewhere where similar laws exist, that assessments are seldom made on this basis. Under present laws, the whole subject is left with the commissioners in the several counties; and although great disparity may exist in one or more counties between the actual and the assessed value of property, no remedy is provided. This being the case, it must be obvious that a revisory board is necessary, to equalize assessments in the several counties in order that taxation may be equal and uniform throughout the Territory. If real and personal property is assessed in one county at its full value, and in another at one-half its value, the tax-payer in the former will pay his just proportion of territorial taxes, while the latter will pay only one-half. I would, therefore, recommend that a Board be created to equalize assessments in the Territory. The number of which the Board shall consist, and the manner of their election or appointment, I leave for your consideration.

AGRICULTURE.

The belief exists very generally abroad, and to some extent at home, that the Territory of Washington, especially that portion lying West of the Cascade Mountains, is not adapted to agriculture, and that the Territory is far behind other Territories in agricultural development and productions. This belief is not well founded. Washington, in the year 1870, ranked every Territory in the United States in the number of acres of improved land, and in the aggregate value of farms, as will be seen from the following taken from the last United States census reports:

Territories.	No. of Farms.	Acres. of Land.		Value.
		Improved.	Unimproved.
Arizona	172	14,585	7,222	$ 161,340
Colorado	1,738	95,594	224,752	3,385,748
Dakota	1,720	42,645	259,741	2,085,265
Idaho	414	26,603	50,536	492,860
Montana	851	84,674	54,863	729,193
New Mexico	4,480	143,007	690,542	2,260,139
Utah	4,908	118,755	29,606	2,297,922
Wyoming	172	338	4,003	18,187
Washington	3,127	192,016	457,123	3,978,341

When it is recollected that New Mexico has almost four times the number of inhabitants that Washington has; Utah more than three times, and Colorado nearly double; that Washington is the smallest in area of all the Territories, many of them having twice the number of square miles that we have, the advanced position occupied by our Territory in agriculture will be still more apparent. It is not probable that the Territory has lost this pre-eminence since the last census.

During the past two years there have been taken by homestead and pre-emption claimants:

	Olympia Land Office.	Vancouver Land Office.	Walla Walla Land Office.
Homesteads	524	261	190
Pre-emptions	1,537	156	617

Making a total of three thousand, three hundred and eighty-five claims within two years. In addition to these settlements on public lands, the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has made extensive sales to actual settlers. I have no means of ascertaining what portion of the lands settled upon during the past two years has been improved.

Not for the purpose of comparison, but to correct wrong impressions, a few statistics taken from the census reports, are submitted:

Number of farms West of Cascade Mountains	2,310
“ “ “ East “ “ “	817

Number of acres of improved land West of Mountains	135,407
“ “ “ “ “ “ East “ “	56,609
Average number of acres of improved land per farm	61 4-10

The major proportion of agricultural products raised in the Territory during the year referred to, except wheat, was raised West of the Mountains.

Thus it appears that that portion of our Territory lying west of the Mountains, which has been by many supposed to be almost destitute of agricultural land, had at the time referred to, a greater number of acres under cultivation than any other Territory except New Mexico, and only 7,600 acres less than that. These facts should forever set at rest the question of the agricultural capacity of Western Washington.

Since the last census the relative proportion of agricultural products, particularly wheat, raised East and West of the Mountains, has undergone a very great change. From reliable information and from personal observation, I am fully warranted in stating that the product of wheat in Walla Walla county alone, the present season, is three fold greater than the entire product of the Territory in 1870. The average quantity raised per acre, the present year, is estimated to be forty bushels, and it is also estimated that the county has a surplus for exportation of 500,000 bushels. Not only this county, but many others East of the Mountains, cannot be surpassed for wheat raising, either as regards quantity, quality or certainty of production. When adequate and cheap transportation is provided for their productions, this part of the Territory will be speedily occupied by an agricultural population, and become one of the richest and most prosperous portions of our country.

PENITENTIARY.

By act of Congress of February 22d, 1873, the proceeds of the Internal Revenue collected in this Territory in the fiscal years 1866, 1867 and 1868, to the amount of forty thousand dollars, were set aside and appropriated for the purpose of erecting, under the direction of the Secretary of the Interior, a Pen-penitentiary building in the Territory upon the site designated by the Legislative Assembly in 1869, and subsequently approved by the Secretary of the Interior. The amount appropriated being found inadequate for the completion of a suitable Penitentiary building, William E. Boone, Esq. Superintendent of Construction, on the 28th of April 1873, in pursuance of instructions from the Secretary of the Interior, entered into a contract with Isaac C. Ellis, Esq. for the erection of one wing of the building, with forty-two cells complete, for the sum of thirty-seven thousand eight hundred dollars, he being the lowest responsible bidder therefor. The work is now progressing, and will be completed before the 28th of November next, the time specified in the contract. By an act of Congress approved January 10, 1871, the Penitentiary, when ready for the reception of convicts will be placed in the custody and control of the Marshal of the United States, for this Territory, under such rules and regulations for its government, and for the subsistence and employment of offenders against the laws of the United States and of this Territory as may be prescribed by the Attorney General of the United States. Persons convicted under the laws of the Territory and sentenced to imprisonment, may be confined in the Penitentiary at the cost and expense of the Territory.

If Territorial convicts are to be confined in the Penitentiary it will be necessary for you to provide by law for the removal of prisoners now confined in county jails, and for the payment to the United States of the compensation which may be fixed by the Attorney General for the subsistence of convicts imprisoned under the laws of the Territory.

The General Government, having by act of Congress, approved January 24th, 1873, transferred to the Territories of Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado the Penitentiaries, respectively erected therein, I presume that the same course will be pursued in relation to the Penitentiary in this Territory if it is deemed advisable to have the same under the care and control of the Territory. I submit this matter to your consideration.

POPULATION.

The increase of population in the Territory during the past three years, taking into consideration our remoteness from the great centers of population, and the difficulty and expense attending immigration, has been fully equal to reasonable expectations. According to the last United States census, we had a population in June 1870 of 23,995. The Territorial census of 1873 shows 31,037 inhabitants, being an increase in two years and nine months of 7,042, and a rate of increase for that period of thirty per cent.

We cannot expect a large immigration until we have full and direct railroad communication with the East. We may however, before that time arrives, add materially to our population, by adopting plans similar to those adopted by many States and Territories to procure immigration. And in this connection I call your attention to and earnestly renew the recommendation of my predecessor, for the appointment or election of a BOARD OF IMMIGRATION.

The great advantages resulting to those States and Territories which have organized systems to induce immigration, furnish us strong reasons for following their example. The manifest want of our Territory is population, and one of the best instrumentalities to secure this, is through a Board, especially charged to make known throughout the Eastern States and Europe the exhaustless resources of our Territory, and to procure cheap transportation for all those who desire to come hither. We may have direct railroad communication with the East, yet if other Territories avail themselves of organized efforts to secure immigration and we do not, we will certainly fail to receive that full share of immigration to which we are entitled. No objection occurs to my mind against the appointment of such a Board. The powers which should be conferred upon it, and the means placed at its disposal, are of primary importance, as on these will mainly depend its efficiency and success.

INSANE ASYLUM.

The reports of the Board of Inspectors of the Insane Asylum show that this institution is humanely and prudently conducted. I can also from personal inspection, bear testimony to the excellent condition in which the grounds and buildings are kept, and the kind and considerate manner in which the unfortunate inmates are treated. Additional accommodations for patients will soon be imperatively necessary. The number of patients in the Asylum at the date of the last report to the Legislative Assembly was twenty-three; now there are thirty-six. For full information in relation to the Asylum and the improvements required, I refer you to the reports of the Superintendent in charge, and of the attending Physician.

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

The one hundredth anniversary of American independence will be celebrated in the city of Philadelphia, in the year 1876, by an international exhibition of arts, manufactures and products of the soil and mine. The President of the United States, in accordance with the act of Congress providing for this exposition, has appointed Commissioners from each State and Territory to prepare and carry out plans for the exhibition. Hon. Elwood Evans has been appointed Commissioner, and Hon. A. S. Abernethy alternate Commissioner from this Territory. The former attended the annual session of the Commission in the city of Philadelphia, in May last. Considerable progress has been made by the Commission, and from the plans adopted and the general interest manifested, we have reason to believe that this exhibition will surpass in magnitude and importance every other that has ever been held in this or any other country.

Washington Territory and its productions should be fully represented at this exhibition. No better opportunity can ever be offered, to enable us to show to the world the products of our mines, our forests, our fields, our orchards, our gardens, and the progress we have made in arts and manufactures. The Exposition will open on the 19th of April and close on the 19th o

October, 1876. I earnestly recommend that a liberal appropriation be made to defray any necessary expense that may be incurred to secure a representation at the annual session of the Commission, and a full co-operation by this Territory with the other Territories and States in this grand and patriotic undertaking.

EDUCATION.

The report of the Territorial Superintendent of Common Schools will probably be laid before you, showing the condition of educational matters in the Territory, and the results of the school law adopted by the last Legislative Assembly. As I have not been furnished with a copy of the report, I am unable to make any suggestion based thereon. I cannot, however, refrain from referring to a subject which should be not only with you, but with every citizen, one of paramount importance.

A free government cannot long exist unless general instruction is provided for the masses by means of common schools and other educational institutions. Our government is of the people. Their judgment will control and decide its future destiny. The judgment of an ignorant people is as liable to be wrong as right. They are liable to be governed by prejudice and passion, and will be the dupes of intrigue and the tools of demagogues. The intelligent citizen is qualified to consider and decide, and will generally decide correctly, the many questions which may arise affecting the best interests of his country. Aside from these general considerations, there is another affecting us locally. The emigrant when looking for a new home, will prefer to settle where his children can have educational advantages. The existence of good common schools in every locality in our Territory, and of graded schools in the cities and larger towns will aid materially in securing us an intelligent and enterprising population in the future.

TERRITORIAL UNIVERSITY.

The Territory has had for a number of years, a fine, commodious University building, but owing to the very limited means at the disposal of the Board of Regents, it can hardly be said that we have a University except in name. Experience has fully demonstrated that with the present endowment it is impossible to conduct the institution on a University basis. I would therefore urgently recommend that a sufficient appropriation be made to enable the Board of Regents to establish and maintain a course of instruction, equal at least to that provided in first-class seminaries and academies.

CONCLUSION.

We have reason to feel profoundly grateful to the Divine Ruler for the general prosperity that has existed in the Territory during the past year. While other portions of our common country have been visited with pestilence in various forms ; with violent storms on sea and land, destructive of life and property ; with conflagrations, sweeping from existence in a few hours the accumulations of years, we have been happily and fortunately exempt.

Our growth in wealth and population may not have been commensurate with the hopes and expectations of many, yet we have reason to be thankful for the large measure of prosperity that we have experienced, and for the healthiness that has so generally prevailed.

GENTLEMEN :

You will have my willing and hearty co-operation in every measure calculated to develop the resources of the Territory and promote the well-being and happiness of the people. And I sincerely trust that your sessions may be harmonious and that all your acts may meet the approval of your constituents.

ELISHA P. FERRY.
